

Environment

1. Slice your banana in half, length ways.

2. Place flat side down and pop a few mandarin segments around the top as if they were the leaves to your banana tree trunk.

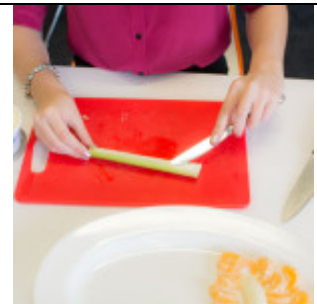

3. Slice parts of a cucumber into thin slithers, leaving the skin on for extra crunch!

4. Chop slithers of carrot, so that you can produce circle shapes.

5. Fan the cucumber slithers at the base of the banana tree with your carrot circles at the edge, creating flowers surrounding the tree.

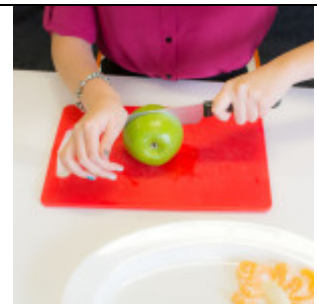

6. Take your celery stick and smooth cream cheese into the crevice.

7. Pop sultanas along the celery stick, sinking them into the cream cheese, as if they were ants marching along a log.

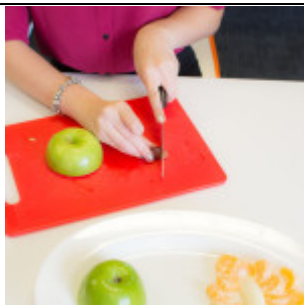

8. Place the celery log beneath the banana tree and cucumber flowers.

Turtle

1. Chop an apple down the centre, creating two dome-like halves. 2. Place one half flat side down – this will be the turtle's shell.

3. Slice one edge of a grape off, so that the flat side can join to the apple and become the turtle's head.
4. Cut 2 more grapes in half through the width and place all four segments around the apple creating 4 legs.

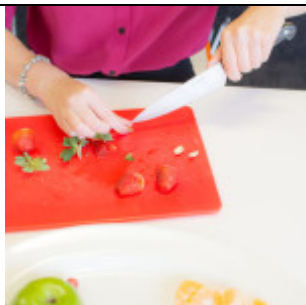

5. Poke little holes into the larger grape (turtle's head) and pop 1 chocolate chip on each side as the turtle's eyes.

Mouse

1. Remove the leaves off of a strawberry (or strawberries depending on how many mice you wish to create!) and slice a slither off of one side of the strawberry to ensure it will sit flat.

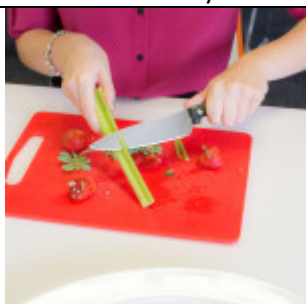

2. Chop an almond in half and poke holes towards the top of the strawberry.

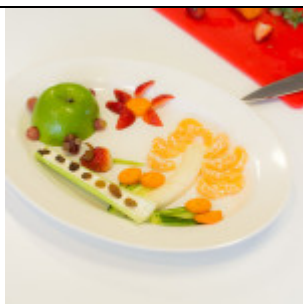

3. Pop each almond half into the holes to create the ears of the mouse.

4. Place 2 chocolate buds beneath the almond ears to form little mouse eyes.

5. Slice a slither of celery just long enough for a mouse tail and poke behind the mouse.

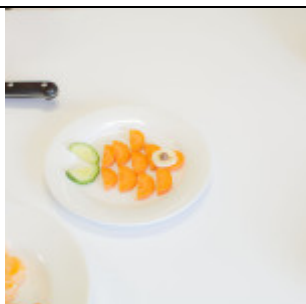

Tip: To add a sun place a round carrot piece in the "sky" and quarter strawberries around it

Fish

1. Slice a carrot into round segments and chop in half to create semi circles aka fish scales! Place the semi circles in a wide diamond shape.

2. For the tail, cut a round cucumber slice in half and place on an angle at one end of the carrot diamond.
3. Pop a circle banana slither on top of the carrot at the other end and a sultana on top of this to form the fish's eye.

4. A trail of sultanas beneath the eye will put a smile on the fish's face. 5. Slice a grape from top to bottom and use pieces as bubbles coming from the fishes mouth 6. Add a few grape halves around the base of the fish to create water for your fish to swim in.

A delicious snack is served!
